Teachers' Pay Still Unsettled At Most Schools

Boards Taking Hard Line Against Spiraling Education Costs

BY BILL RUSH
Staff Writer
Only 2 of 15 school districts in Berrien county have ratified teaching contracts for 1973-1974 as local school boards continue to stand firm in bargaining sessions.

All of southwestern Michigan has been affected by stiffening of school board positions following a trend since 1970 across the state, according to officials of the Michigan Education Association (MEA). In Allegan, Cass and Van Buren counties, 20 of 26 school districts were without contract settlements at the beginning of this week, with negotiations in many cases expected to extend into late summer.

Last September, statewide, 230 of 550 school districts opened school without contracts for teachers, MEA said. Most teachers reported to work and continued bargaining, but some districts were faced with strikes or court action.

Some of the reasons cited by MEA for "more reluctant" school boards were: more teachers on the job market; organized task forces sponsored by the Michigan Association of School Boards providing advice on negotiations to school board members; President Nixon's guidelines under Phase two and Phase three; and the concept of teachers being accountable for learning in the classroom.

Geoff Masters, executive director of MEA for northern Berrien county, said salary increases in new contracts for 10 school districts from the Kalamazoo area to Grand Rapids average 5.4 per cent of base salary. This is in addition to step increases (increments) based on increased experience and educational advancement by teachers.

In districts without settlements in Berrien county, school boards have been talking base salary increases of only 1.2 per cent, while teachers have been asking a 5 to 6 per cent raise, Masters said.

Under assault by many school boards are the automatic step, or pay grid, increases, which under previous contracts have often been an addition to regular salary increases.

Changing the automatic step increases is one of the recommendations of the Berrien-Cass Task Force, the result of a Jan. 23 meeting in Watervliet, sponsored by the Berrien County School Board association. The task force includes all school districts in the two counties except New Buffalo. Mrs. Dorothy Grove, task force secretary and member of the Brandywine

Surgeons Replace Girl's Leg Joints

Now She Can 'Stand Tall'

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — A 19-year-old Battle Creek girl has a new life ahead of her now that she can stand straight and tall for the first time in 14 years.

RoAnne Chaney, a victim of rheumatoid arthritis since she was 5, has had her hip and knee joints replaced with artificial joints at the University of Michigan's C.S. Mott Children's hospital.

Made of plastic and metal, the new joints were tailor made for the 4-foot-9, 80-pound girl.

Spindles from the new joints extend into her legs, leaving only 1½ inches of unsupported bone between hips and knees.

Dr. Herbert Kaufer, an orthopedic surgeon who headed the surgical team that replaced RoAnne's joints, said such replacement is attempted rarely.

"In most cases we would not have tried a four-joint replacement," he said. "But RoAnne was so determined to walk we decided to risk it."

Prior to the operations, RoAnne could barely support herself on crutches. She was able to "walk" short distances in a half-crouched position by swinging herself ahead of the crutches.

Doctors have scheduled two more operations to replace RoAnne's shoulder joints.

Lawmaker Moves Quickly To Draft Anti-Smut Bill

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — It took less than 24 hours for a state legislator to use Thursday's Supreme Court decision on pornography as the basis for drafting an anti-smut bill.

Rep. Kirby Holmes, R-Shelby Township, said Friday he was preparing legislation to permit Michigan communities to shut down X-rated movie theaters, adult bookstores and other sources of "hardcore commercial pornography."

The Supreme Court ruled that courts may decide whether the material appeals to prurient interests on the basis of community standards, and tossed out the protection of "redeeming social value."

While juries in local courts may now use their own local standards in defining what is obscene and what is not, Holmes said, "many communities...do not have local ordinances concerning pornography and their needs can now be satisfied by using a state law to ban pornography from their community."

DETROIT (AP) — At least three Detroit pornographic theaters have closed their doors following the U.S. Supreme Court's ruling allowing cities and states to determine their own definitions of obscenity. "No one knows what the law is in Michigan today," said Stephen Taylor, attorney for many of the area's porno bookstores and theaters.

However, Taylor said he had

Detroit Not Backing Down Despite Parking Ticket Ruling

DETROIT (AP) — Andrew C. Wood, presiding judge of Detroit Traffic Court, doesn't care what they do in suburban Birmingham. Parking violators will continue to pay fines in the Motor City.

Wood said a ruling Friday by the 48th District Court requiring meter maids to see who parked a vehicle before issuing a ticket will have little effect on Detroit.

"The Detroit ordinance, to assume the guilt of a vehicle's owner when it is ticketed, was upheld by the State Supreme Court 30 years ago," Wood said.

"I don't know what their problem is up in Birmingham, but we've been operating on that principle for a long time," he said.

Birmingham officials have indicated they will appeal the ruling, since parking ticket fines add nearly $70,000 a year to city coffers.

German Couple Weds Here

Say 'I Do' American Style

BY SCOTT WILLIAMSON
Staff Writer

A Bavarian couple vacationing in St. Joseph became man and wife yesterday in a civil ceremony at the Berrien county courthouse.

And in keeping with an old

American tradition, the newlyweds said they would like to spend part of their honeymoon at Niagara Falls.

Wearing their native Bavarian outfits before Magistrate Joyce Bucher, Fraulein Eva Griner and Alex Fleischier said the traditional "I do's" and were pronounced husband and wife.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Fleischier are in St. Joseph visiting Mrs. Hildegard Dansfield, of 418 LaSalle avenue, St. Joseph. Mrs. Dansfield's brother and Mrs. Fleischier's father are close friends in Germany, which prompted the couple's visit to St. Joseph.

Mrs. Fleischier said the wedding in America was sort of a "spur-of-the-moment" idea, although the two have been engaged for about two years.

"Our families are quite spread out in Germany, and it would have been difficult to bring them all together in one place," Mrs. Fleischier said in good English.

"We both felt getting married in America would be a good idea, and a unique experience," she added.

The couple plans to return to Germany in a few weeks.

Fleischier is a sales manager for a large firm in Stuttgart that sells industrial equipment. Mrs. Fleischier is a secretary for a Japanese firm that manufactures parts for vehicles.

They plan to make their home in his house in Stuttgart, but will keep her apartment in Munich as a weekend "getaway."

Besides her secretarial duties, Mrs. Fleischier is a competition manager for a German sports organization that sets up pentathlon events for visiting teams from all over the world.

The Fleischiers said they like the U.S. very much and have had a lot of fun here. They said they were particularly impressed by the friendliness of people in America, and especially in the Twin Cities.

The wedding ceremony, performed in English, was attended by Mrs. Dansfield and Mrs. Frank Melcher, also of St. Joseph.

It was a pleasant task for Magistrate Bucher, whose main duties are imposing traffic fines.

Although no rice was thrown, an American, and probably a world-wide sentiment was expressed: "Mit den besten Wunschen und viel Gluck." (With the best of wishes and lots of luck)

Building Planned

Mortgage Tumbled By Judo Institute

Seinan Judo Institute, Inc., of St. Joseph burned its mortgage last week—one of the significant milestones in the 12-year history of the organization.

The $4,500 mortgage on four and a half acres of land in Lincoln township off Wilson road, was paid last week. Now said Don Wickham, founder and director of the Judo club, plans can be started in earnest toward building a club headquarters.

While raising the money to pay off the mortgage, club members have been busy landscaping the grounds, planting numerous fir trees and shrubs.

Seinan started 12 years ago in a vacant store in the 100 block of State street where the St. Joseph Holiday Inn parking lot is located. Urban renewal forced the club to move to the A. B.

Morse building and when that structure was torn down the club moved to its present location, the 505 Building on Pleasant street, St. Joseph.

Last fall, Wickham said, Seinan's status changed from a community service club to a state approved educational institute.

In addition to serving the general public, Seinan provides instruction for accredited judo courses at Lake Michigan college and for area law enforcement agencies.

Wickham also announced Dave Simanton and Ian Reed had advanced to Brown belt; Craig Polleschi and Doug Wells to Green belt; Jack Arent and Andy Bedunah, adults to green stripe; Didney Polk and Benjamin Donaldson, juniors to yellow belt; and Scott Palmer, David Summers and Ernie Maddox, juniors to yellow stripe.

Fuel Shortage Doesn't Halt Gas Station Construction

Numerous Twin Cities area service stations have felt the pinch of the gasoline shortage, and a few have had to cease operations.

But two major oil companies seem to be optimistic, since they are constructing two new gasoline stations on M-139 in Benton township—about a mile away from each other.

Construction is currently underway on a new Marathon station at the corner of M-139 and Napier avenue, and an Atlantic Richfield (ARCO) station at the intersection of M-139 and Nickerson avenue.

The contractor for the Marathon station, Sigo Construction Co. of Benton Harbor, estimated the station should be completed in about four weeks. Employees of a South Bend construction firm building the ARCO station said it should be ready to open in about five or six weeks.

Another Marathon station, Rex's, is located about 1½ miles from the new one, on M-139 at I-94. Another ARCO station, Judy's, is at 1583 Pipestone road, about two miles from the new ARCO station.

Don Brines, district sales manager for Marathon, said he doesn't think the new Marathon station will have "an adverse effect" on Rex's Marathon.

He explained that Rex's handles primarily freeway traffic, and the other station will be geared to local traffic. In addition, the new Marathon station will feature a car wash facility.

Brines said the new station will get most of the gasoline that was projected for it during preliminary surveys, and that the new one will not draw gas away from those stations currently being supplied by Marathon.

He said construction began on the new station before the gas shortage became a serious problem, so construction was allowed to continue. Brines stated the new one in Benton township is the only Marathon station that is currently under construction in the entire Ft. Wayne district, which encompasses northern Indiana and southwestern Michigan.

No spokesman from ARCO could be reached, despite calls to Illinois, South Bend, and the Benton Harbor area.

Man Is Hospitalized After Fall From Pier

A Kalamazoo county man, rescued from Lake Michigan after slipping off the south pier in St. Joseph Friday night, was admitted to Memorial hospital for observation.

St. Joseph police identified the victim as Joseph M. Wheeler, 54, of Richland, who reportedly slipped from near the end of the pier.

Police said two Benton township men, Francis Dunn and Norman Bridwell, both of 650 South Crystal avenue, pulled Wheeler from the water. Police said officers, called by the St. Joseph Coast Guard station, arrived to find coast guardsmen and a St. Joseph couple, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Kleaveland, 2602 Willa drive, administering first aid.

Witnesses reported that the victim was walking on the pier near the edge, turned to walk back, and slipped. The accident was reported at 8:50 p.m.

Ambulance Driver Helps Catch Suspect

An alert ambulance driver was credited by Benton Harbor police in the apprehension of a 16-year-old boy, shortly after a purse snatching was reported at 4:40 p.m. Friday.

Police said the arrest may clear up two other purse snatching and a couple of burglaries.

Credited for his alertness was Dennis Leavitt, a driver for Rampart Ambulance Co. and a brother of Benton Harbor Det. Bruce Leavitt.

Driver Leavitt overheard a police radio description of a purse snatcher and saw a person matching the description. This was on Pipestone, about five blocks from the incident. Leavitt kept the person in sight and kept police informed of the locations. He used the two-way radio in the ambulance.

The boy, of Benton Harbor, was apprehended on Heck court. The purse, with contents including $60 in cash was recovered.

The report was received from Mrs. Phyllis Bradford, 33, of 941 Pearl street, Benton Harbor, who said the purse was snatched from her 11-year-old daughter, while the two were walking on Empire. The assailant reportedly appeared from an alley off Empire, between Ogden and Superior. No one was injured, police indicated.

The police report stated that the crime may have been unsolved, if the ambulance driver hadn't overheard radio traffic and kept police informed. The boy was booked on a charge of strong-armed robbery, and lodged in jail. He was to be petitioned to juvenile court.

FROM SOUTH HAVEN TO ST. JOSEPH: Chief Joseph Zwawa, Jr., (left) formerly the officer in charge of the South Haven Coast Guard station, formally took over command of the St. Joseph Coast Guard station Friday from BMT Jim Johnson. Chief Zwawa commanded the South Haven station from April, 1970 to the decommissioning of the station earlier this month. He is a 16-year-veteran of the Coast Guard. Johnson has served as acting officer in charge three times in his five years at St. Joseph. He is 18-year veteran of the Coast Guard. (Staff photo).

Tom McCall Saves Money For Berrien

Sheriff Lieutenant's Job Bargain-Hunter's Dream

BY BRANDON BROWN
Staff Writer
Tom B. McCall has a job that's a bargain-hunter's dream come true.

McCall, a Berrien sheriff's lieutenant and director of the county Office of Emergency Preparedness (OEP), successor to Civil Defense, drives about twice a month to Lansing to buy federal surplus property at bargain-basement rates. He explains that the items he sees at the State of Michigan federal surplus property warehouse on North Logan in Lansing are castoff U.S. military items from all over the globe. The federal government makes the property available to other government agencies, hospitals and schools—no sales to individuals—for only the cost of transporting the goods to Lansing.

"Military surplus" usually conjures up visions of worn-out bombers, dented helmets and rusty rifles. But the stuff Uncle Sam has available is more mundane, like stretchers, pots, chalkboards, desks, typewriters, adding machines, blankets, mattresses, shovels, chairs, rakes, bolts, property tags, telephones, nails, wire, transistors, paper goods and even portable aluminum telephone poles.

McCall makes up a shopping list of what county government, sheriff's department and jail want, and he also acts as scout for items sought by townships, cities and villages here. They use McCall's authority to buy but handle their own procurements to avoid financial snarls.

The buyer has to know a bargain when he sees it and snap it up, McCall says.

"Most of the things come through there on a one-shot deal," he said. "If you see it and you want it, you'd better get it or it'll be gone."

"The telephones, for example, they must have had over 3,000 of them. I picked up 45 a couple months ago and went back last week."

"They were down to 3." McCall's been making procurements over a year and a half and estimates the savings to county government in the thousands of dollars, even after discounting his and helpers' salaries and travel to and from Lansing.

His coups include cloth-backed property tags, file folder fasteners and desks.

He bought 10,000 tags, a 1½-year supply for the county jail inmate property room, for $2.50 a thousand compared to $7.66 a thousand for similar tags at retail.

He bought 20,000 file folder fasteners—little metal clips—for 20 cents a hundred compared to $3.20 to $6.50 a hundred retail, depending on size. That's more than a year's supply for the courthouse.

"Then there are the desks we've procured up there," he says. "We've procured probably 20 within the last six months at an average of $15 apiece. The going price for a comparable new desk is $170, probably."

"Some of the ones we bought are near-new. Others need a coat of paint and a formica top at an additional $12.50 per desk."

The closest he's been to getting stung is a pair of $40-each electric typewriters. They need $60 each in repairs for first-class condition but both are in use so it wasn't too bad a deal, he says.

Isn't buying surplus cheating private business out of potential sales? Maybe so, McCall says, but there are two overriding factors—federal surplus already has been bought and paid with taxpayers' dollars, and it's headed for use by tax-supported institutions.

Some 11 local units of government are taking advantage of the opportunity to buy surplus through McCall and he hopes to develop a surplus procurement procedure handbook to encourage even more units.

There's a separate program for schools and hospitals. Once accredited by the state, they can buy on their own, he said.

But there's always a catch. The property McCall buys stays in Uncle Sam's name for two years, then ownership reverts to the Berrien County OEP and is

Youth Camps Must Pass Health Checks

Annual inspections of Berrien county's 22 youth camps are to begin about July 1 by environmentalists from the Berrien county health department.

"We feel this is a necessary part of the environmental scheme because at no other point during the year are children as exposed to each other and the physical environment as at their stay at camp," said Edward Golsen, head environmentalist.

"We go over them pretty thoroughly."

His staff inspects camps on behalf of the state department of social services, the licensing agency, to "maintain a high level of standard from all environmental aspects of camp life, including sewage disposal, potable water supplies, food service facilities, swimming pools, bathing areas and general safety and sanitation," Golsen said.

Inspectors spend up to a half day at each camp. Those that routinely pass inspection get a full license. Those that don't can get provisional licenses while making corrections.

Camps that don't make corrections in a reasonable period don't get licenses, Golsen said.

Activities Underway For Coloma Youths

COLOMA — A summer activity program for young people from pre-school age to high school is underway in Coloma.

Mrs. Luanne Schwyn, a member of the sponsoring Coloma parents advisory committee, said she is hopeful that the program will involve hundreds of children and youths over the course of the summer.

She said the committee can use all of the volunteer help it can get in organizing and coordinating activities, which will range from teen dances to softball.

Second in the series of dances for seventh through twelfth graders is scheduled from 8:30 to 11 p.m. Tuesday, June 26, in the junior high school parking lot and will feature music by the "Atlantic Steel Pier." Admission is 50 cents.

Softball for girls of middle school and junior high school ages begins Monday, June 25, at 6:30 p.m. at the new girls diamond on Coloma avenue.

Scheduled Thursday, June 28, is the first of a planned series of picnics. The event, from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. at Lions park, is for first to fourth grade children.

Other events planned include field trips and movies.

First field trip is scheduled in July to the nature center, said Mrs. Dorothy Myrick, chairman. Exact times and other details will be announced later.

Movies will begin Monday, July 2, at Coloma high school auditorium at 8 p.m.

"The films are world famous family entertainment films and planned for pre-schoolers, students and adults," said Mrs. Schwyn. Donation will be 25 cents.

"These activities will require a lot of time and involve a lot of people," she added. "And in order to carry them out, we need help from Coloma adults."

Mrs. Schwyn asked that persons interested in volunteering time to the program to contact her, 468-3338; Sandy Frubel, general chairman, 468-8161; Judy Matthews, dance chairman, 468-6435; Margaret Schmidt, picnic chairman, 468-6974, or Dorothy Myrick, movie chairman, 926-7995.

'Pot Harvesters' Pick Wrong Plant

"Although there was the intent, they got the wrong plant," stated Berrien Sheriff's Lt. Ronald Schalon in his report on two young would-be "pot" harvesters.

The harvesters, identified as two 16-year-old Stevensville boys, were remanded to their parents, and no charges were filed.

Schalon said a plant, almost identical in appearance to marijuana, was being picked and put into a bag in a field near Roosevelt school, Stevensville.

The harvest was interrupted by Schalon, on patrol about 11:20 a.m. Friday.

According to police, officers on patrol were stopped by Rolland Lynn, route 5, Dewey Lake, Dowagiac, at 2:30 a.m. and told by Lynn that his car was taken from a parking place on South Front street.

Officers broadcast a description of the car, and at 2:45 a.m. spotted it in the First Savings and Loan association parking lot, Pennsylvania avenue. An occupant of the car, a 20-year-old Dowagiac man, was arrested and charged with the theft of the car.
